The Greek society of Douglas sent $150 to Athens as a contribution to the fund now being raised by Greece with which to fight the Bulgarians.

The Pinal Bank and Trust company of Florence, bought at par, this week, the $25,000 bunch of school bonds issued by the Casa Grande school district.

Three new buildings will be added to the Flagstaff normal group, and plans for them have just been completed. Work upon them will be started in August and they will be finished some time in November.

The next annual convention of the Arizona Cattle Raisers' association will be held in Tucson on January 5 and 6, 1914. It is expected that it will be the biggest meeting of that body ever held in the state.—Dispatch.

The San Pedro valley is booming. In the district around Hereford at least 75 families have moved in during the last six months. All are permanent settlers and have started about putting their land under cultivation.

It will cost Cochise county approximately $272,000 to maintain the public school system this year, exclusive of the school bonds and interest on them. The school tax has been placed at 16 cents on the $100, as against 55 cents on the $100 last year.

Howard K. Fulton, Percy E. Fulton, John A. Jenkins and David A. Jamie son were arrested yesterday at the instigation of the United States attorney. The alleged perjury occurred in a contest case in connection with a homestead in the Sulphur Spring Valley. The hearing will be held before the United States Commissioner, Henry Neirrich of Wilcox.—Democrat.

Jack Cudahy, the Kansas City millionaire packer, accompanied by W. G. Winstead, arrived in the Patagonia district Wednesday. They came overland from Tucson and were driving a big Chase car. Mr. Cudahy, who controls the Bland mine, near Patagonia, went there in the interest of that property. He spoke freely concerning the Bland, and is very much pleased with the good showing made on the property.

The business of the state land commission that has up to the present filed upon 750,000 acres, is increasing every day, at this time of the year owing to the leasing of school lands, releasing of such land as has heretofore been under lease, and the leasing of state land under the recent enactments of the state legislature. All this makes business very heavy as there are many applications for lease continually being filed in the office.—Arizona Republican.

The Casa Grande Bulletin is announced to make its appearance in a few days. Mrs. A. H. Hammer of the Wickenburg Miner will be the editor and publisher, an assurance that the new paper will at once take front rank among Arizona weeklies. At the same time it is whispered that Flagstaff is to have another weekly publication, by whom deponents say, eth not, but it is to champion the doctrines of Democracy and attempt to create an eclipse over Colonel Fred. Breen's glittering Sun.

Kingman people, members of the National Old Trails Roads Association, are in receipt of notice that the organization has been linked with the National Highway Association and together these organizations are working for the cooperation of the federal government in the building of systems of highways throughout the United States. The federation of these great factors in highway building will be of benefit to the nation and may bring about the passage of the highway bills now before congress.—Miner.

The new smelter at Clarkdale, when completed, will have a smelting capacity of about 3,000 tons per day, or treble that of the present works. As there are now about 1,000 men employed, in mines, smelter and shops, the increased capacity of the new smelter will probably double the number of men employed.—Courier.

Wireless radio stations for use of the border patrol of the army are being erected at Amadoville, Arivaca and Sasabe by men of company I, Signal Corps, U. S. A. There are 16 men in this detail and 17 others at Nogales. The balance of the company is divided between Fort Bliss, Texas, and Marfa, Texas. The establishment of the radio stations will enable the various commands of Fifth cavalry to communicate with each other rapidly and effectively, and to keep in close touch with headquarters at Fort Huachuca.—Tucson Citizen.

The many schemes for the conversion of water in the north part of this county is sure to bring good results before next winter is over. The rainfall in the north part of the State is heavy and the opportunity to dam up the big canyons of that section gives the agriculturists the chance of their lives to get plenty of water for irrigation purposes. At Beaver Dam a company is putting in a dam to hold the flood waters of the Virgin and bring water to many thousands of acres at Mesquite flat. In the eastern part of the county many small ranches have sprung into existence.—Mohave County Miner.

Two thousand head of cattle confiscated from the estates of Don Luis Terrazas in Chihuahua, are on their way into Sonora for entry into the United States, according to Americans arriving from the Bavispe river, where constitutional cowboys are now await the arrival of the herd. The entrance into Sonora of the Chihuahua cattle was also confirmed by General Jose de la Luz Blanco, who stated that on account of the federal holding the port of Juarez and the torn up conditions of the railroad, it was impossible to bring the cattle to the Texas border and that the Sonora route was most practicable.—Prospector.

The decrease of 14,500,000 pounds during the month of June in the stocks of copper held in this country, as shown by the Copper Producers' report made public, comes as a surprise to the trade, which was not expecting anything like so large a reduction, and its effect should be to strengthen the market for the metal. There has been an almost uninterrupted monthly decrease in the foreign surplus, which reached its maximum in March, 1910, at 254,000,000 pounds, until now stocks in England and France amount to but 63,000,000 pounds. Certainly statistics give no reason for pessimism in the copper situation.—Jerome News.

Government Sells Timber.

A sale of government timber, aggregating over 24,300,000 feet, is announced by the U. S. forest service, to the Saginaw and Manistee Lumber Company of Williams has purchased 24,300,000 feet of green and dead pine and fir timber on the Tusayan national forest of Arizona.

The area on the Tusayan is near Williams, on the Santa Fe lines, which furnish ready access to the general markets. The timber is to be cut prior to December 31, 1915, and the contract price is $2.50 per thousand feet.

The government expects to get an approximate gross return of about $50,000 from the sale, of which about $13,000 will go to Coconino county in lieu of taxes.—Williams News.

Mrs. C. A. Berry, an experienced cook, is stopping at the National hotel. She is anxious to secure a position as cook in a private family. Reference furnished.—adv.

Tombstone Route the Best.

Some good natured controversy has lately been indulged in by those interested in the Borderland Route; Bisbee and Tombstone having been eliminated by a map recently published by the Phoenix Republican, says the Tombstone Prospector. After having the matter called to its attention, the Republican graciously makes the amende honorable, disclaiming any attempt of fixing immutably any route that would do injustice to either Bisbee or Tombstone, and in concluding an article in regard to the matter says:

"If the road via Tombstone is as good, or even nearly as good, as the other, it should by all means be chosen. While Bisbee lies practically on the Huachuca route, the interest of the town in the race would be vastly increased if the automobiles were to pass through it from Douglas and out of it via Tombstone Canyon."

"The city of Tombstone, also, ought not to be missed by the racers. It ought, also, be on the Borderland, for it would attract many continental tourists, Tombstone, however far it may have fallen from its former high estate—the best known mining town in the country—is more than a city or a town. It is an institution, belonging not alone to Cochise county, but to all Arizona. It has the same incomparable climate and many of the incomparable citizens it had a quarter of a century ago, when it was the great white spot of the southwest."

SUMMONS.

In the Superior Court of Santa Cruz County, State of Arizona.

C. O. Foltz, plaintiff, vs. John Bartlett and W. R. Layne and Todd C. Woodworth, defendants.

Action brought in the Superior Court of Santa Cruz County, State of Arizona, and the complaint filed in said County of Santa Cruz, in the office of the clerk of said superior court.
